Dear Jan,

Thank you for your email. I hope this finds you well.

You are correct your travel will be for transit reasons. Meaning you will arrive in one airport, leave to travel directly to your next airport and continue your travel. You will not need to book the test kits or isolate.

Please keep on you proof of your connection flight proving you will be directly travelling between the two airports.

Kind regards,
Georgia Wright

Subject: Travelling rules for landside transit

Dear Sirs and Madams!

If everything is OK, our family (Czech citizens) is planning to visit the Canary Islands at the end of March 2021.

Our connection from Prague (Czech Republic) – London Stansted – London Luton – Tenerife involves landside transit. On your website:
<https://www.gov.uk/guidance/booking-and-staying-in-a-quarantine-hotel-when-you-arrive-in-england>

I have found a text: "If you enter England and intend to continue your journey directly to a country outside of the Common Travel Area (UK, Republic of Ireland, Isle of Man and the Channel Islands) then you do not need to book a quarantine package or enter managed quarantine."

Am I right in understanding the landside transit is feasible even during the COVID time? We will of course travel with valid passport, recent negative PCR COVID test and completed passenger locator form, and strictly observe all recommended measures:

"If necessary, you may travel straight from your port of arrival to another port in England to catch a flight, train or ferry going outside of the Common Travel Area, but you must take precautions to prevent the risk of virus transmission. These include:
keeping your distance and observing social contact rules washing or sanitising your hands regularly wearing a face covering that covers your nose and mouth (this is required by law unless you're exempt) planning ahead and avoiding the busiest routes, as well as busy times like the rush hour downloading the NHS COVID-19 app before you travel, if possible, and checking in where you see official NHS COVID-19 QR code posters.”

Yours sincerely,

Jan Tojnar
